I can prepare for baptism when I am 8

The diagram shows a baptismal font with a grid of rectangular cells. The top row consists of five rounded rectangular cells. Below this, there are four larger rounded rectangular cells. The bottom section is a large rectangular area divided into four horizontal rows. The left and right sides of this area are stepped, with the right side being higher than the left. Three wavy blue lines are drawn across the bottom section, starting from the left side and ending on the right side, creating a sense of depth or water.
